PAPER TIGER LADY OFFERS PRODUCTIVITY SECRETS ON NEW WEB RADIO SHOW

RALEIGH, N.C. – After more than 30 years of organizing people's homes and businesses, Barbara Hemphill, the Paper Tiger Lady, is often asked questions about how to be more productive.

Now, Barbara will be offering her expert tips and advice through a weekly radio show.

The weekly web broadcast will begin Wednesday, Aug. 4 and is available at noon each week on Barbara's Web site and via iTunes. Her company, The Productive Environment Institute, teaches people how to accomplish their work and enjoy their lives.

"One of my favorite activities in life is responding to people's questions and concerns about how they can accomplish their work and enjoy their lives," Barbara said. "I look forward to listeners submitting the questions they would like me to address in that regard related to their personal and professional life."

One of the most frequently asked questions Barbara receives is: Who is your competition?

"Apathy and resignation," she says. "Either people feel that 'getting organized' doesn't really make a difference or they've tried it and were unsuccessful. In 30+ years, I've never met anyone who can't be successful -- unless they think they can't!"

Listeners can submit their questions by visiting the "Ask Barbara" section of her Web site.
